Griffiths, Curt T. 2014. Canadian Criminal Justice: A Primer. Toronto: Nelson.

Additional Required Readings will be posted to OWL and/or placed on reserve at Weldon Library.

Method of Evaluation:

In Class Mid-term Examination: worth 50% of final course grade

Final Examination: worth 50% of final course grade

Evaluation Breakdown:

Midterm Examination (October 20, 2016): This is an in-class, written examination based on all materials presented in lectures, seminars, and readings up to and including the October 25, 2016 class. The exam will consist of a mixture of multiple-choice, fill in the blank, and short answer questions. The mid-term examination is a closed book exam. No electronic devices will be permitted during the examination. The mid-term exam is worth 50% of your final course mark.

Final Examination: (held during the Final Exam Period – TBA): There will be a three-hour final (cumulative) examination based on all materials presented in lectures, seminars, and readings during both the first and second half of the semester. The exam will consist of a mixture of multiple-choice, fill in the blank, and short and long answer essay questions. The final examination is a closed book exam and no electronic devices will be permitted during the examination. The final examination is worth 50% of your final course mark.

N.B. To ensure the fair treatment of all students, so that no one individual receives any consideration or special treatment as a result of verbal complaints (e.g., arbitrary bumping up of grades) that is not equally received by others, there are no make-up assignments for poor test scores.

Computer-marked multiple-choice tests and/or exams may be subject to submission for similarity review by software that will check for unusual coincidences in answer patterns that may indicate cheating.

Exam Re-evaluation

Students who wish to seek a re-evaluation of grades must justify to me, in detail and in writing, exactly why they feel that a mark is not justified. Such a request should be based on reasons that are rooted in the specific course content and keeping in mind my expectations for the class.

Please note that in an event that a mark is re-evaluated, I reserve the right to adjust the mark both upwards and downwards.

Grade Guidelines:

The Department of Sociology guidelines require a particular course grade distribution. For 2200 level courses, the number of A's is not to exceed the number of B's, and class averages are expected to fall in the range of 66-70%

Due to concerns surrounding grade inflation, final grades in this course will be centered on a mean of no higher than 70% (as per the Department guidelines). This means that your final course grade depends on your ranking relative to the other students and I reserve the right to take corrective measures to ensure against grade inflation.

How to Contact Me:

If you have a question or would like to discuss course content, please see me during my office hours. Outside of class and/or office hours, email is my preferred method of contact.

Please note that I do not discuss matters of grades, course content (e.g., definitions of concepts, differences between theoretical perspectives, etc.) or matters of special accommodation by email. I require that email correspondence be saved to such items as arranging a meeting during my office hours and/or for discussing information that is not posted on the course outline. I also do not answer questions regarding information that is posted on the course outline (e.g., quiz/exam dates, required readings, exam information, etc.) and/or any material or announcements that are discussed in class.

Email should be professionally prepared, spell- and grammar-checked, and not written in “text message” format. All communications must be written from your UWO account. The subject heading should read the course title. Sign the email with your fully name and student number. You can expect a response within 24-48 hours, excluding weekends.

How to get important information:

Your first sources of information are the course syllabus and OWL. OWL will be used to post course information, content, reminders, and important instructions regarding deadlines, expectations, requirements, etc. It is expected that you will check OWL regularly to ensure that you are kept up to date on new and revised course content. It is student’s responsibility to ensure that you are kept up-to-date on course content and announcements.

Grades (except the final exam and year-end mark) will be posted to OWL as they become available. Due to privacy regulations, I do not provide grades or discuss issues regarding grades via email. If you wish to discuss your grade(s) please see me during my office hours.

Important Policies

Missed Class

I do not post or handout my lecture notes. If you miss class, are late or leave early, it is your responsibility to catch up on anything and everything that occurs during class (e.g. arrange with a classmate to exchange lecture notes, discussions, videos, guest speakers, class announcements, etc.,).

Missed Exams and Late Assignments

Make-up exams will be granted with approved documentation only.

If you have a conflict with one of the exam dates, it is your responsibility to discuss it with the Academic Counseling office at least one week before the regularly scheduled exam and provide documentation of the conflict. If approved, you will be allowed to schedule a make-up exam.

If you miss an exam date or the due date for an assignment due to illness or for any other unforeseen reason, you must provide notification of and documentation for the reasons for your circumstances to your Academic Counselor within 48 hours. If your problem is medical in nature, you should be seen by your doctor on the date of the exam or on the date the assignment is due. If your Academic Counselor agrees that your reasons are legitimate and are supported by your medical doctor’s documentation, you will be allowed to write a makeup exam or hand in your assignment at a later date.

A Note on Plagiarism:

Students must write their assignments in their own words. Whenever students take an idea from another author, they must acknowledge their debt both by using quotation marks where appropriate and by proper referencing such as footnotes or citations. Plagiarism is a major scholastic offence (the Scholastic Offence Policy can be viewed in the Western Academic Calendar).

Plagiarism Checking:

All required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted for such checking will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system. Use of the service is subject to the licensing agreement, currently between The University of Western Ontario and Turnitin.com (www.turnitin.com).

Policies on Examinations

Students are not permitted to have any electronic devices (laptops or cellphones, etc.) present or turned on during tests/quizzes or examinations.

Computer-marked multiple-choice tests and/or exams may be subject to submission for similarity review by software that will check for unusual coincidences in answer patterns that may indicate cheating.

Policy on Laptops and other Electronics/Phones in Class:

Laptops are permitted in class but are to be used only for taking class notes. If it is observed that students are on social networking sites such as Facebook or Twitter, they will be told to close the lid and they will not be permitted to use it for the remainder of the class. Cell phones must be turned off and put away prior to the start of class.

Tape recordings of the lectures without an academic accommodation along with permission from the professor and the rest of the class is not permitted.
