This is a critical synopsis of the reading designed to raise specific questions for debate and analysis, using primary texts where possible. The seminar report will be worth 20% of the final grade. Students must also submit an outline of the proposed term paper, of minimum two pages (should be in point-form and must include a bibliography listing at least five publications outside course readings), worth 11% of the final grade, and due Nov. 1st (in class). The major term paper (3000-3500 words, 12-15 pages), worth 44% of the final grade, will be due Monday Dec. 10th by 12 noon. (Comments on major term papers will only be provided if requested in advance of submission, and late assignments will receive no written feedback.) Students are also asked to submit a summary (minimum one page) of the assigned readings for each class (excluding the specific reading one is presenting on), each worth 1%, for a total of 10%, to be submitted at the start of each class. The final 15% will be awarded for general class participation. All written submissions must be typed and in 12 scale font, except for the notes of assigned readings, which may be hand-written. (The only acceptable excuses for missed deadlines will be for documented medical reasons or family bereavement/illness; late papers will otherwise be penalized 3% per day.) All required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism.
