Course Description

This course aims to develop insights and skill sets for applied social science research in the field of immigration and immigrant integration. In doing so, the course will draw on sociological and demographic literature on migration and incorporation of immigrants to establish foundational knowledge, including the key theory, concepts, research methods, and facts/trends. Additionally, students will gain “real life” insights from a series of guest lectures by experts/stakeholders, invited from governmental and non-governmental sectors, who will be asked to speak about the nature of their work and the issues that they face in their field. Based on the insights from academic literature and guest lectures, students will then be tasked with identifying a gap in the research and knowledge base, and develop and conduct mini research projects that will address the issues that the stakeholders face.

Due to the pandemic condition, the course will start with remote learning (so far the announcement is made for the classes until January 31st). During this time, the class will be held synchronously over zoom. Please pay attention to further notice.

The class will consist of two parts: one part of the class time will be used as a seminar, in which we will discuss on selected topics in the area of immigration and immigrant integration in Canada. The other part of the class is allocated for research project workshops, in which students will develop research questions, design, analysis and reports by exchanging ideas in class.

Learning Outcomes

Through these course activities, students will be able to:

- gain deep and operational knowledge of key concepts and conceptual frameworks in the area of immigration and immigrant integration research;
- familiarize themselves with leading research and research tools on immigration and integration/settlement research in Canada;
- learn about pressing issues on immigration and immigrants settlement/integration in today’s Canadian context;
- develop research skill to conduct applied research relevant for policy fields and local communities; and
- acquire communication skills to present findings and offer “solution” to policy makers and community stakeholders.

Method of Evaluation (Dates and Formats are tentative, and will be finalized in the full draft of the outline)

A: Quiz: 20%
B: Course project: 80%

Evaluation Breakdown

A: Quiz (20%) consisting of a set of short answer questions, which ask students to provide definitions and descriptions of the key concepts, facts, and terminologies covered in the first part of the course.

Format: It will be an open book quiz. A set of questions will be posted on a specified date, and students are asked to submit the answer through the course website under the OWL in one week time.

Date: The question will be posted on Jan 26th. The deadline of submission is on Friday, Feb 4th @ 11:55PM.

B: Course project (CP) (80%): Based on the presentations by the guest speakers, the class will discuss and select a few topics for course projects. Then, students will be tasked to develop a mini research project.

There will be 4 assignments associated with the course project. The assignments are designed to cover each step of the research process through a progression. Based on the writing in the previous assignments, new components will be added along the way. The final paper will be produced by combining and revising the contents from the previous assignments.

- CP1: Research topic/research question, literature, hypothesis, 10% (max. 5 pages) Due: Friday Feb 18th @ 11:55PM
- CP2: Data search/interpretation 20% (max. 10 pages) Due: Friday, March 18th @ 11:55PM
- CP3: Mini-Presentation of research project 15% (Zoom presentation) Date: Wednesday, April 6th
- CP4: Final report 35% (max. 12 Pages) Due: Wednesday, April 6th @ 11:55PM

How to get important course information

For information about the course, please read the course outline carefully. Also, check your email and course website for announcements.

Required Text

Selected readings will be assigned for each week and they will be on the course website under OWL. To access them, please make sure you are enrolled on the course website through OWL.

Students are expected to have read the assigned readings and prepared for discussion by identifying the concepts and arguments in the readings as well as your reflections on them.

Important Policies

Course delivery with respect to the COVID-19 pandemic

Although the intent is for this course to be delivered in-person, the changing COVID-19 landscape may necessitate some or all of the course to be delivered online, either synchronously (i.e., at the times indicated in the timetable) or asynchronously (e.g., posted on OWL for students to view at their convenience). The grading scheme will not change. Any assessments affected will be conducted online as determined by the course instructor.

When deemed necessary, tests and examinations in this course will be conducted using a remote proctoring service. By taking this course, you are consenting to the use of this software and acknowledge that you will be required to provide personal information (including some biometric data) and the session will be recorded. Completion of this course will require you to have a reliable internet connection and a device that meets the technical requirements for this service. More information about this remote proctoring service, including technical requirements, is available on Western’s Remote Proctoring website at: https://remoteproctoring.uwo.ca.

Academic Consideration for Missed Work

Students who are seeking academic consideration for missed work during the semester may submit a Self-Reported Absence (SRA) form online provided that the absence is 48 hours or less and the other conditions specified in the Senate policy are met. Two important exceptions to this rule: SRAs will NOT be allowed for final examinations or assessments worth more than 30% of a given course. Students whose absences are expected to last longer than 48 hours, or where the other conditions detailed in the policy are not met (e.g., work is worth more than 30% of the final grade, the student has already used 2 self-reported absences, the absence is during the final exam period), may receive academic consideration by submitting a Student Medical Certificate (for illness) or other appropriate documentation (for compassionate grounds) to your Home Faculty Academic Counselling office.

All students pursuing academic consideration, regardless of type, must contact their instructors no less than 24 hours following the end of the period of absence to clarify how they will be expected to fulfill the academic responsibilities missed during their absence. Students are reminded that they should consider carefully the implications of postponing tests or midterm exams or delaying submission of work, and are encouraged to make appropriate decisions based on their specific circumstances. www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/accommodation_medical.pdf

Unexcused late assignments will be penalized 5% per day (including weekend days). Please note that computer or internet problems are not an excused circumstance. You are expected to follow good computer practices, including backing up your work.

Policy on Accommodation for Medical Illness

Western’s policy on Accommodation for Medical Illness can be found at www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/accommodation_medical.pdf.
Students must see the Academic Counsellor and submit all required documentation in order to be approved for certain accommodation: counselling.ssc.uwo.ca/procedures/academic_consideration.html.

A Note on Plagiarism

Students must write their assignments in their own words. Whenever students take an idea from another author, they must acknowledge their debt both by using quotation marks where appropriate and by proper referencing such as footnotes or citations. Plagiarism is a major scholastic offence (the Scholastic Offence Policy can be viewed in the Western Academic Calendar).

However, for the final assignment of the research proposal assignment, the use of the text from the previous assignment is permitted, in so far as it is from your own work.

Plagiarism Checking: All required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted for such checking will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system. Use of the service is subject to the licensing agreement, currently between The University of Western Ontario and Turnitin.com (www.turnitin.com).

Policies on Examinations

There is no exam scheduled for this course.

Policy on Phones during the Online Session

Be sure that all cell phones are turned off at the beginning of online forum (unless it is used for participating in the online forum).

Accessibility Options

Please contact the course instructor if you require material in an alternate format or if you require any other arrangements to make this course more accessible to you. You may also wish to contact Services for Students with Disabilities (SSD) at 519 661-2111 x 82147 for any specific question regarding an accommodation. Information regarding accommodation of exams is available on the Registrar’s website: www.registrar.uwo.ca/academics/examinations/accommodated_exams.html

Scholastic Offences

Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, at the following web site: www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/scholastic_discipline_undergrad.pdf

Mental Health

Students who are in emotional/mental distress should refer to Mental Health@Western (www.uwo.ca/health/mental_wellbeing/) for a complete list of options how to obtain help.
