Course Description: This course considers the sociological significance of drugs and drug use in society. The historical, political and cultural underpinnings of drug policies and drug use are examined, while highlighting the social implications of policies that approach drugs and drug use from moral rather than empirical positions.

Prerequisite(s): 1.0 from Sociology courses at the 1000 level.

Unless you have either the prerequisites or written special permission from your Dean to enroll in the course, you may be removed from this course and it will be deleted from your record. The decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisites.

Anti-requisite(s): The former Sociology 3313F/G
Course Objectives and Learning Outcomes:
Upon the completion of this course, students should:

1. Understand the sociological importance of drugs and drug use
2. Be able to critically examine the models of addiction that dominate public discourse
3. Appreciate the value of a biopsychosocial model of addiction
4. Learn to examine various forms of evidence-based knowledge and critically assess the sources
5. Be able to critically examine what makes policies and public education effective or ineffective
6. Apply evidence-based knowledge to educate the public about drugs and drug use

For the closed-book midterm exams, you will have 2 hours in class to complete 60 multiple-choice questions. Electronic devices will not be permitted. This is a paper and pen exam. Please remember to bring your own pencils to the exam.

For the closed-book final exam, you will have 3 hours in-person to complete 90 multiple-choice questions. Electronic devices will not be permitted. This is a paper and pen exam. Please remember to bring your own pencils to the exam.

Student Absences:

If you are unable to meet a course requirement due to illness or other serious circumstances, please follow the procedures below.

Assessments worth less than 10% of the overall course grade:

For work worth less than 10% of the total course grade, the TA may provide an extension (of no longer than 3 days) for quiz or in-class activity submission if the student provides a valid reason (by emailing the TA). Students must create a 5-minute YouTube video to present their commentary on that week’s readings.

Assessments worth 10% or more of the overall course grade:

For work totaling 10% or more of the final course grade, students must provide valid medical or supporting documentation to their Home Faculty Academic Counselling Office as soon as possible.

If a student misses the midterm exam, they will take a makeup exam, which will be a multiple-choice exam.

Students with an approved absence from an in-class test or exam will be required to write a makeup exam. Course professor or teaching assistant(s) may not be available to respond to questions during the makeup exam. Students should be aware that the make-up test will not necessarily be in the same format, be of the same duration, or cover the same material as the original test.
